

CLASS ACTIVITIES SUMMARY XII

Julian Pagan
English
Mrs. Molina
April - May

15/17 APRIL

Today seemed a bit Roman today, as we made a poem with certain words like indomitable and so on. I never really liked the poem I did, but I enjoyed the activity anyway.

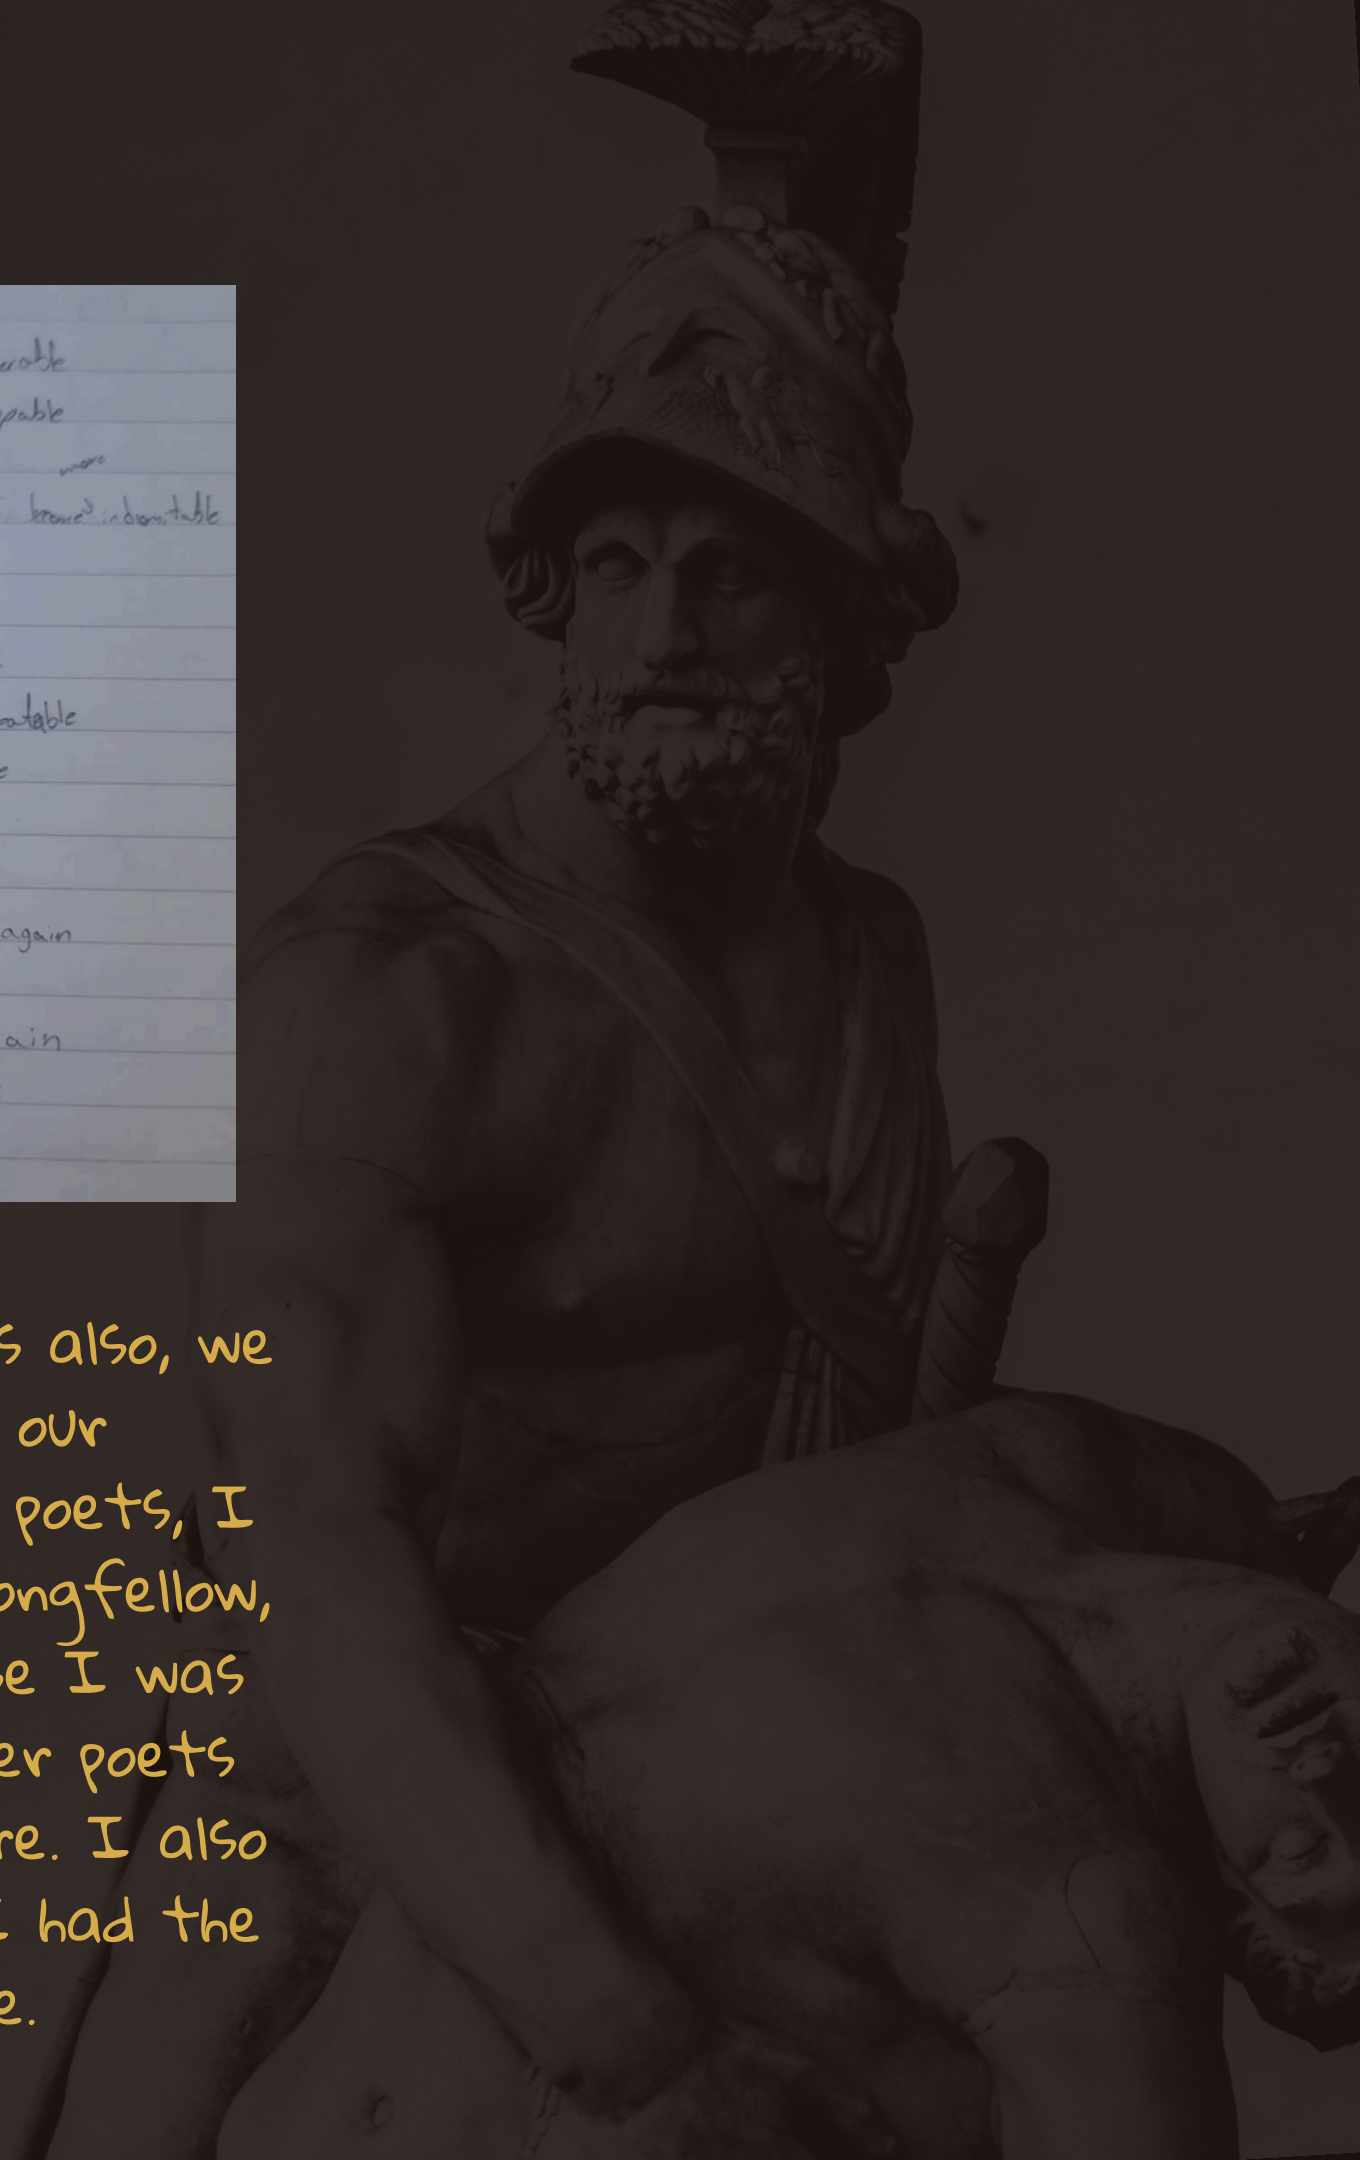

You may think that this city is unconquerable
The moats between this wall are unstoppable
I will not yield, I may be undefeatable
Your attacks are useless, with every sword I know indomitable

I will not yield, I am unconquerable
Sometimes I am weak, but I will be unbeatable
Indomitable, unshaken, unstoppable
Now I may be invincible

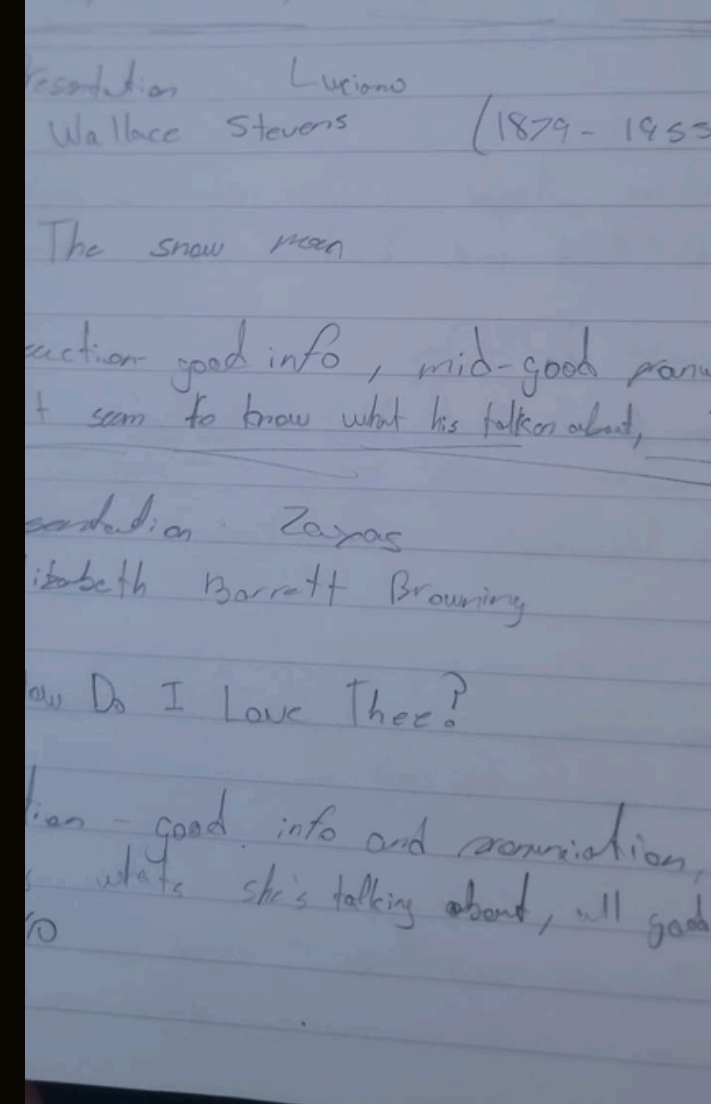

Dispute the challenge of swimming again
Viewing the swimmers being unstoppable
Putting swimming my main, to gain
But I will not yield, not undefeatable

Today and the other class also, we started to present our presentations about the poets, I presented about Henry Longfellow, I loved this work because I was able to learn about other poets that I didn't know before. I also liked the presentations I had the opportunity to see.

19/23 APRIL

This day has been full of presentations, which have been quite good without a doubt. Today I realized all the presentations that were left to see, there was one or another that did not convince me, but most of them were good. Apart from that, what I was more or less doing is to make a report of each presentation, although I'm not complaining, but I didn't like it either.

At this point and with the introductions winding down, I feel like I'm in a cafe watching people talk. It sounds weird, but it's true, one thing, it feels really good to do the work early, because you have more free time afterwards. Listening to the remaining presentations, I realized that I could have done a better job on my presentation, but it was too late. In spite of this, today was pretty normal and uneventful.

25/29 APRIL

Today we started working on the assignment, I really liked the dynamics and the central idea of this work, as it offered me another way to enjoy my English class doing one of the things I like to do the most, which is to play video games. I was able to teach others one of my favorite games, I liked that a lot and I thought it was pretty cool. It was difficult to create a script, since I had no idea how to do it, but I did something crazy and I was able to do it right.

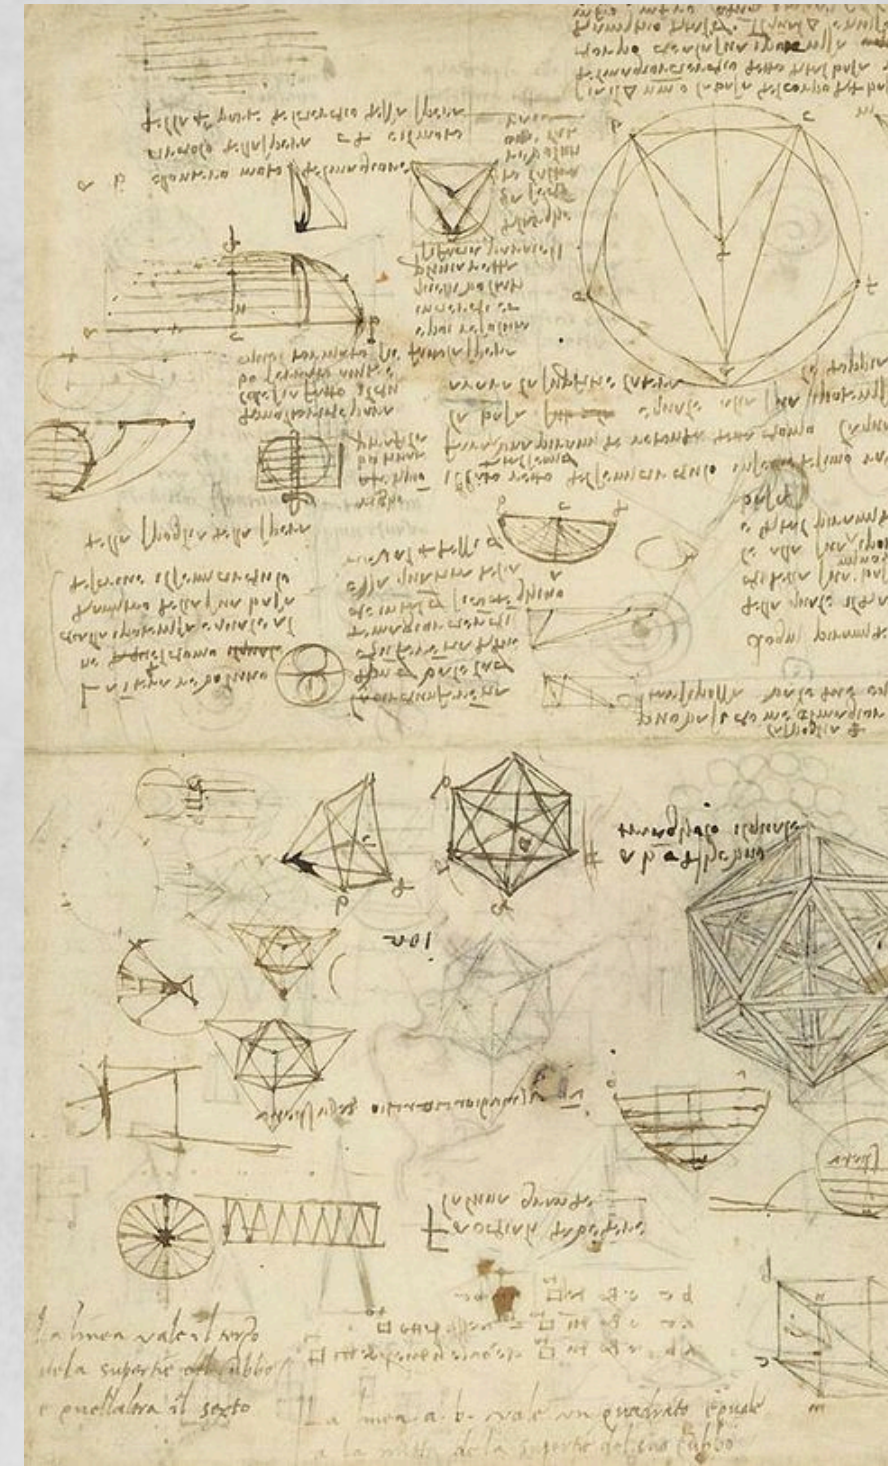

Today's work was somewhat emotional, as it was the last voice and speaking activity we were going to do this year, and for the rest of Beato's history. Which could have made me sad, but I still liked the paper a lot, I was able to get my thoughts off my chest and talk about my experiences this year taking English classes.

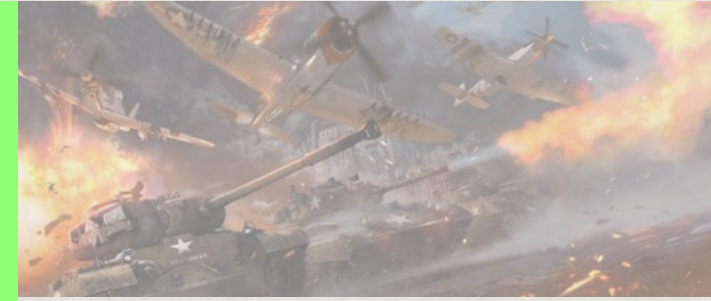

1/3 MAY

Today was the best day of these last weeks, as I was able to present my work, my video about War Thunder, which I was very excited and happy to present. I put a lot of effort in making the video, in the editing part, I love editing and more I love that other people like what I do. It went very well today, I give this day an easy 10/10 without a doubt.

Today I was absent from English class, because I was in a math practice, which we are preparing to take the math olympiad. Apart from that I found out that they finished presenting the papers, I'm sorry I couldn't see the ones that were left, but it's ok. To culminate, I remain firm with my thought that this was one of the best works that there has been and that I have had without a doubt, I liked it very much.

THE “ENDE”

Finishing this presentation of successful and wonderful works everywhere. I want to say and emphasize that the best work was Demonstrative Speech, without any doubt. The other works were also quite good, I will definitely miss taking classes with Mrs. Molina, as she is a spectacular teacher. I know that the papers will not be the same and I will regret it, but I will keep going. Finally, I hope that the final work will fill us with joy and charm.
