Class Activities

APRIL 15 TO MAY 3

April 15 / 17

APRIL 15

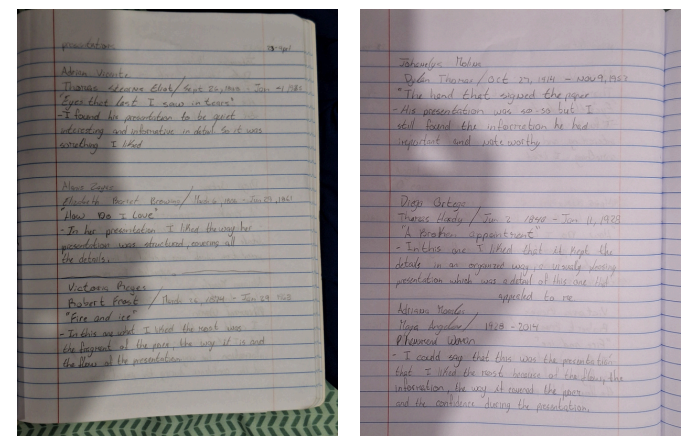

- In this class we were responding to a poem named Invictus by William Ernest. This was a poem that I liked the way it was and the message it gave. Also the dynamics of the poem with the words I assigned I liked doing it.

APRIL 17

- In this class the presentations began. I enjoyed the presentations and found them entertaining but little more than that as it was just listening to them.

April 19 / 23

APRIL 19

- On this day I was absent due to a math competition. But I understood that I was doing the presentation of the poets. In this I looked up the poems given by the classmates and they were poems that I liked.

APRIL 23

- In this class I was able to be present for the presentation of my classmates. This day the presentations seemed to flow more than the first day and could have a different touch in the way the poem was read. Which was something I liked because it made it look better.

April 25 / 29

APRIL 25

- This day I was in my last math competition so I was not present in the class. But the class was assigning work. I think this assignment is fun because we can teach our classmates something they might not know.

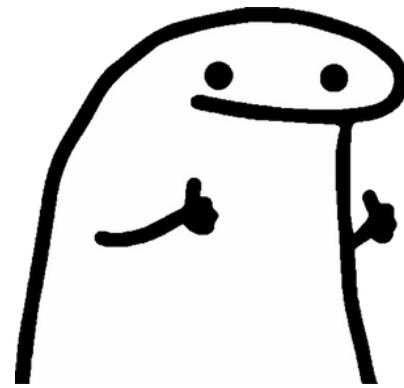

APRIL 29

- Honestly this class was pretty boring because there was nothing that stood out about it. We were just working on homework. But I still found it necessary to have a class like this because I was able to focus on my work and form an idea to work on it.

May 1 / 3

MAY 1

In May we started with the presentations of cel Assessment #13. Julian, Zayas, Aviles, Fabian, Andrea, Dariel, Mia, Victoria and myself presented. The presentation that I liked the most was Julian's, it was super funny and creative and it was the one that stood out the most for me.

MAY 3

On this day I was not present in the class since I had intensive mathletes. But I understand that they were continuing the presentations. They were Johanelys, Diego and Adriana. Diego being about outfits, Johanelys about skincare before makeup and Adriana about how to write creatively.

Conclusion

These were fun classes that I enjoyed. Even though I was not present some of the classes I attended and activities I was able to do I enjoyed. It was a good closing of classes with which I had a good time and sometimes not so much. I still enjoyed them especially assessment #13 which was about demonstrating something to classmates so there were some fun and creative presentations.
